

Flute marching folio: Get the one that attaches to your arm. It looks like this.

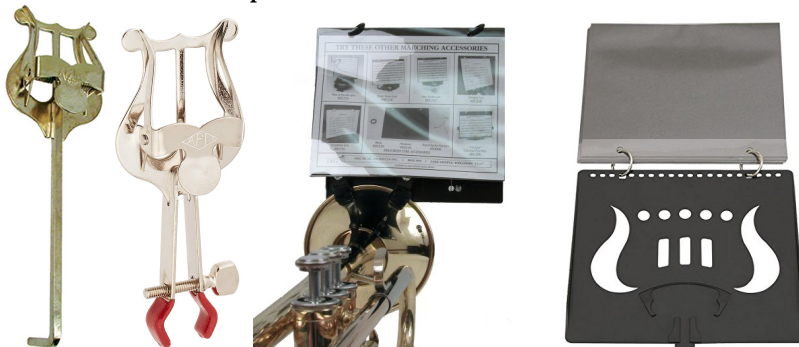

Clarinet marching folio: You will need a lyre that attaches to your instrument to hold the folio. The marching flip folder you need looks like the one below.

Alto sax marching folio: You will need a lyre that attaches to your instrument to hold the folio. The marching flip folder you need looks like the one below.

Trumpet marching folio: You will need a lyre that attached to your instrument to hold the folio. Most attach to the 3rd valve slide ring for your left hand. However, if your slide ring cannot be removed you will need to get one that clamps onto your instrument. If you purchase one of the first two pictured you will need a folio like the one on the 4th picture.

French horn marching folio: You only need to purchase the marching flip folio.

Trombone marching folio: You will need a lyre that attaches to your instrument to hold the folio. I strongly recommend the one pictured below to avoid causing damage to your instrument bell. The marching flip folder you need looks like the one below.

Baritone marching folio: The marching flip folder you need looks like the one below.

Tuba marching folio: The marching flip folder you need looks like the one below.

Percussion marching folio: The marching flip folder you need looks like the one below.
